We strongly recommend that you watch the Next- Gen Elem/MS Scheduling instructional videos on the office professionals page of our website at www.jmcinc.com/office. Click on the scheduling tab. The instructional videos will provide much more detail and tips about the scheduling process. Use this form as a guide while you watch the video.

1) Courses – The first stage deals with reviewing and updating your course information.

A) Review previously entered courses. Go to Schedules: Course: Course Data List to print the courses you already have entered. Set up the screen in the way it looks on the right. This will give you a print out of all the courses already entered into your data. (Make sure to uncheck the “Only Include Courses With Students Enrolled” box or you will get a blank screen because you haven’t registered any students into classes yet.) Click “Preview” and “Print.”

Copying a Students Schedule: To copy an entire student schedule to another student go to Schedules: Student: Edit Schedules and on the right hand side under the quick links is a link that says “Copy Shcedule From Another Student.” Click this link and choose a student whose scheudle is complete to copy to your current student’s schedule.

4) Schedule Students – The fourth stage takes all of the courses for which a student has been registered and puts them into sections.

A) Go to Schedules: Develop: Schedule Students.

- Choose the Time Frame. Typically schools will choose the Entire Year.
- Choose the grade levels you want to schedule.
- If any of the four checkboxes apply to your scheduling situation you can check them. Click “Process.”

B) After scheduling students you can view a student’s finished schedule by going to Schedules: Student: Edit Schedules.

C) If the Schedule Students function did not choose the sections for a course, it typically means one of the following:

- The sections chosen for that course had the same term, i.e. Sem 1 and Sem 1.
- If a class meets at the same time as another class they will not be able to be scheduled. In the elementary situation this typically means the sections were put into a period but the days were not unchecked.

5) After Scheduling is Complete – Here are some important things to consider:

- After all students have been scheduled new students will come to your school and need to be scheduled. Typically a school will enter in all of the course #'s on a student’s schedule and then go to Schedules: Develop: Schedule a Student (not Schedule Students). Then you can choose that student and just schedule him/her.
- Many schools will go to Schedules: Develop: Locking Options and lock schedules with the code. That code is your school’s postal zip code. This prevents anyone from bulk loading students or clicking the Schedule Students button. If either of those happen it can undo some of the work you have done.
